Vehicle Alarm and Theft Deterrent System

Background

Description of Related Art

This application is a continuation of 09/879786 now issued as 6,717,511B2. Vehicle theft is a worldwide problem. An automobile can require an investment of a year of personal income. Cars are particularly important in automobile reliant cities such as Los Angeles. When a person's car is stolen, the car owner can also suffer a host of negative psychological injuries ranging from anxiety, depression, heart attacks and panic attacks. A well-designed automobile anti-theft device can deter car thefts and aid in vehicle recovery.
